Program Outcome: As a part of curriculum this lecture helps students to understand the symbolism, power politics, and the criticism of colonial education system and the essence of humanism reflected in the play of Rabindranath. The play Mukta-dhara depicts the conflict between the evil side of science and the humanitarian impulses of mankind. The ideas of freedom, popular protest, political mobilization, and ahimsa were discussed. The integral discussion helps the students to develop their creative writing.

3. On 11.01.2019 Students of Department of Bengali were taken to an excursion to Jagadishchandra Bose Botanical Garden, Kolkata, and heritage site of Kolkata for naturestudy.

Outcome of the event: Nature is a dominating part of literature. A student of literature has to observe and realize the seasonal diversity, seasonal flowers, fruits and change of natural beauty, environmental issues for their understanding of literature and the mindset, emotions of a poet or creative writer. This visit to Nature Park helps them to expand their observatory learning process.
