'Swami Vivekananda's ideology and NSS'

Madhu Tewari

Department of History,

Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

Swamiji said that - "All the power of the world resides within you and never feels weak." "Arise, wake yourself up and awaken your inner strength and you will see success one day in your hands." Swami Vivekananda always encouraged the youth to recognize the infinite power present within them. The important lesson that Swami Vivekananda has always imparted to the youth is that one should always do the best for the living being because God is gained only through the welfare and service of living beings. Because God is present in every living being so if we do the best to the living being then it is equal to serving the God.

Inspired by this thought of Swami Vivekananda, several young men and women helped Swamiji and in 1897 "Ramakrishna Mission" was founded. The main objective of Ramakrishna Mission Pratishtha was to help the poor, distribute relief to people in natural calamities etc.

The National Service Scheme is an Indian government sector public service program conducted by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports of the Government of India. Popularly known as NSS, the scheme was launched in Gandhiji's Centenary year in 1969. The Motto of NSS "Not Me But You", reflects the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for selfless service. NSS helps the students develop appreciation to other person's point of view and also show consideration to other living beings.

National Service Scheme was modeled on Swami Vivekananda's ideas of personality development and nation building through selfless service. It inspires the youth of India to become aware of and actively participate in the developmental issues of India, especially its underprivileged sections.

Swami Vivekananda Youth Motivation and Role of NSS

Indrani Das Mahapatra

History Department

Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

Swami Vivekananda born as Narendranath Dutta in an affluent Bengali family in Calcutta, grew up as the symbol of youth power, who hoisted the flag of Indian culture overseas. His entire life was an immense source of inspiration. He supported new enthusiasm for progress among the youth, so much so that the whole country celebrates his birth anniversary as 'National Youth Day'. A very practical man, Swami Vivekananda believed that the service to mankind should be selfless as service to mankind was service to God. He worked tirelessly towards betterment of the society, in servitude of the poor and the needy, dedicating his all for his country. He is one of the eminent personalities in making the Western countries realise that India was not a country of illiterates. He revealed to the western world the different aspects of Indian civilisation. He also dwelt on the capabilities of the youth; he wanted the youth to train itself in order to serve humanity. What he wanted from the youth were 'muscles of iron' and 'nerves of steel'. His teachings are most relevant today. While our country witnessed immense progress after independence and became self-reliant in many areas, we are still divided in the name of caste and religions. According to Swami Vivekananda National Integration involves nation-building which in turn implies education for man-making. The National Service Scheme (NSS) is an Indian government sector public service program conducted by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports of the Government of India. The scheme was launched in Gandhiji's Centenary year in 1969. Aimed at developing student's personality through community service. The program aims to instilling the idea of social welfare in students, and to provide service to society without bias. Exactly following the way which Swami Vivekananda showed us for the Nation- building process.

Swami Vivekananda and Youth Motivation

Anushka Bhattacharjee

English Department, Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

Swami Vivekananda was a spiritual leader, philosopher, and social reformer who played a significant role in shaping India's national consciousness during the 19th century. His teachings on self-realization, service to others, and national unity have inspired millions of people around the world, particularly the youth.

Swami Vivekananda believed that the youth were the most critical segment of society and had the potential to shape the country's future. He advocated for the empowerment of the youth through education, character building, and leadership training. According to him, the youth should be motivated to develop a strong sense of purpose, self-confidence, and a spirit of service to society.

National integration was one of Swami Vivekananda's primary concerns. He believed that India's diversity was its strength, and the country could only progress if all its citizens worked together in harmony. He stressed the need for national unity and the eradication of communalism, casteism, and regionalism. He encouraged people to transcend their differences and work towards a common goal of building a strong and prosperous nation.

The National Service Scheme (NSS) is an initiative that embodies Swami Vivekananda's vision of youth empowerment, national integration, and community service. The NSS was launched in India in 1969 with the aim of providing opportunities for the youth to engage in social service activities while also developing their personality and leadership skills.

Through NSS, young people from diverse backgrounds come together to work towards a common goal of serving their communities. The NSS provides a platform for the youth to contribute to the nation's development while also developing their sense of social responsibility and leadership skills.

In conclusion, Swami Vivekananda's teachings on youth motivation, national integration, and service to society continue to inspire millions of people around the world, particularly the youth. The NSS is an initiative that embodies these principles and provides young people with a platform to serve their communities while also developing their personality and leadership skills. By promoting these values, we can create a better future for ourselves and our nation.

Swami Vivekananda and Role of NSS

Adrija Biswas

Department of English,

Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

The awakening of youth is the key to turn a country into a superpower. The idea of the upliftment of “tarun samaj” which Swami Vivekananda threw to his country is been continued by several organisations and the government itself in several ways. Without a dedicated young generation a nation cannot survive and progress. It is the youth of the country that can turn a country into a superpower. Combining the youth of the country and encouraging them to work for a better tomorrow is the responsibility that NSS has taken in. It teaches to believe in “you” rather than in “me”. It teaches the generation to be proud of their heritage and teaches to work together without any distinction of cast, creed, religion and language. It helps making the capacity in the generation to move forward with any work while maintaining complete energy and enthusiasm. As mentioned by Swamiji, awakening of the youth is the key to national integration. The youth should serve without expecting anything in return. Following Swamiji’s notion, NSS is working to uplift the youth and encouraging them to work for the nation by bidding them with a single thread. It is encouraging and building the youths with various activities to make India the best in the world.
