Workshop on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

“DIGITAL LIBRARY AND OPEN ACCESS RESOURCES: A REQUISITE FOR HIGHER EDUCATION AND RESEARCH”.

26th July, 2019
11:30am

Organized by: IQAC and Library Subcommittee,
RKSMVV

Venue: College Library(Shraddhaprana Pathakakshma)

Number of Participants: 28

Brief Description of the Event and Programme Outcome:-

A Library Workshop was organised by the Library Sub-Committee in the Library premises on July, 26th, 2019 from 11:30 hours to 14:30 hours. The title of the Workshop was “Digital Library and Open Access Resources: A Requisite for Higher Education and Research”. The Workshop was arranged solely for the teachers of Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan. The purpose was to acquaint them with new methods of e-learning and various techniques of tapping and retrieval of e-resources. Dr. Bablu Sutradhar, Chief Librarian, Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur, was the first speaker. He spoke at length about the National Digital Library, its features, its collection and how it can be used. He also distributed brochures of the National Digital Library among all participants. The next speaker, Dr. Parthasarathy Mukhopadhyay, professor & HOD, Department of Library and Information Science, University of Kalyani provided the participants with a hand on learning experience about the various methods of tapping and retrieval of e-resources. He introduced the participants to advanced methods of searching, beginning from Google Search to DOAJ, BASE, Zotero and so on. He also made the listeners aware of the issue of Plagiarism vis-a-vis Intellectual Property Rights.

The lectures were useful. The teachers were benefitted as they were made aware of the optimum and ethical utilization of the vast amount of digital resources. This would certainly help facilitate future research and learning.

Number of Participants: 42

17th November, 2019

Brief Description of the Event:

Revelio'19– On 17th November, 2019, English department organized a literary and cultural fest for the students. Sessions on literature included “Translating the Margins: Facts, Fictions and Findings” by Dr. Sipra Mukherjee and “Performance and Songs as the Confluence of Music” by Kabir Chattopadhyay. A workshop on cartoons was conducted by singer and cartoonist Upal Sengupta for students. Students also participated in a competition based upon their performances of original composition of a song, a dance, a slam poem, a doodle, a monologue, a dialogue or a design.

Programme Outcome: The purpose of the departmental fest is to break the monotony of the year-long academic pressure. Revelio'19 was a perfect blend of academic, co-curricular and performance-oriented workshop cum fest that celebrates literature as well as many facets of creative outpourings. Students were introduced to a unique career option and entrepreneurship opportunity in cartooning, print and digital versions

Seminar on Research Methodology

STATE LEVEL SEMINAR ON HUNDRED YEARS OF JALLIWANWALA BAGH: RELIEVING THE GRIEF RESEARCH

24th February, 2020

11 am -3pm

Name of the Resource person:

1. Dr. Sukanya Sarkar, Associate Professor, Sarojini Naidu college for Women
2. Dr Sunetra Mitra, Assistant Professor, Department of History, RKSM Vivekananda Vidyabhavan
3. Dr Chirantan Dasgupta, Associate Professor, Department of History, Amdanga Jugal Kishore Mahavidyalaya
4. Professor Nirban Basu, Former Professor, Department of History, University of Calcutta.
5. Three students from each college also spoke.

Brief Description of the Event: Dr. Mitra gave the main speech, examining the areas and methods of research on events in the Punjab leading up to the Jallianwala Bagh massacre and its aftermath. Professor Basu gave a speech providing the wider context of post-World War I all-India unrest and the fear that generated among the rulers. Faculty from the other participating colleges also spoke briefly. This was however, planned as a student event, and three students from each college gave five-minute presentations looking at the event and the long scar it has left in the historical memory of India.

Organiser: History Department, RKSMVV;
History Department, Amdanga Jugal Kishore Mahavidyalaya; History Department, Sarojini Naidu College for Women; History Department, Rishi Bankim Chandra College, Evening; Gandhi Smarak Sangrahalaya Auditorium, Barrackpore
Venue: Gandhi Smarak Sangrahalaya Auditorium, Barrackpore
Number of the Participants: 92

Programme Outcome: The lectures by the teachers provided a depth of vision and clarity, highlighting how the post-World War I situation transformed India swiftly from a country where the nationalists were content to move through constitutional means, to one where mass struggles increasingly came to be seen as essential, and the goal of full independence started being articulated. The papers by students served to train the students in both research and the art of public speaking, with a clear understanding of their subject matter and the tools of their discipline.

DECODING DARWIN

12th May, 2020
4:00pm

Organiser: Department of English,
RKSMVV in collaboration with
IQAC, RKSMVV
No. of Participants: 43

Resource Persons:

1. Dr. Sanmita Ghosh, Assistant Professor of English, Hooghly Mohsin College
2. Dr. Sipra Mukherjee, Professor, English Department, West Bengal State University

Brief Description: "Decoding Darwin" was held in collaboration with the IQAC, RKSMVV on 12th May, 2020 (from 4pm – 7pm). Lectures were delivered by Dr. Sanmita Ghosh, Assistant Professor of English, Hooghly Mohsin College and Dr. Sipra Mukherjee, Professor in the English Department at West Bengal State University. The number of attendees of the webinar was 43.

Programme Outcome: The webinar served as an introductory lecture on Darwin not only as a scientist famous for his evolutionary theory, but also as an eminent Victorian non-fictional prose-writer. Two speakers discussed and expanded upon the impact of Darwinism, the reflection of his groundbreaking ideas upon contemporary Victorian literature. The seminar also introduced student to upcoming and multidisciplinary areas of research on Victorian England and on Darwinism.

"Decoding Darwin"

a webinar

organized by
The Department of English
Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

The Department of English, Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan, is organizing and hosting a webinar on "Decoding Darwin" on 12.05.2020, 4pm to 7pm in the evening. Dr. Sanmita Ghosh, Asst. Professor of English, Hooghly Mohsin College and Dr. Sipra Mukherjee, Professor in the English Department at West Bengal State University, are our esteemed speakers for the event. The webinar proposes to discuss Darwin's path breaking ideas in 'On the Origin of Species' (1859) and the impact of Darwinism in later socio-political thoughts and practices.

All the Semester IV students and the faculty of the Department will be participating in the webinar.

Webinar on Research Methodology

ARABIC SOCIETY, CULTURE AND SCIENCE

10th June, 2020

12pm - 2pm

Organiser: Department of History,
RKSMVV

Number of the Participants: 30

Name of the Resource Persons:

1. Prof. Kunal Chattopadhyay,
Department of Comparative Literature,
Jadavpur University
2. Dr. Swati Sen, Department of History, Dum Dum Motijheel College,
North 24 Parganas

Brief Description of the Event: This Webinar went beyond the syllabus of Core Course 4 and tried to generate research interest on the Arabic Culture.

Programme Outcome: The year 2019-20 was a critical one. In March came the lockdown, followed by Amphan in May 2020. Despite the lockdown, the Department rose to the occasion and organised a webinar on Arabic Society, Culture and Science. Dr Sen talked about Arab Society and Culture, while Professor Chattopadhyay spoke on Arabs and their great contribution to science. Students found the webinar very useful, and expressed their wish to carry out research projects on Arab Culture and Society, because Arab culture is seldom taught or discussed.

Lecture arranged for: (CBCS System) SEMESTER III & V

Brief Description of the Event & Program

Outcome: During the tough period of pandemic and lock down this lecture had been arranged to encourage the students to learn the real features of epidemics and pandemics reflected in Bengali literature. The lecture not only enhanced their knowledge but also encouraged them to conduct their own research on the lived pandemic situation and Pandemic Studies. The lecture and ensuing interaction with the speaker and their teachers helped them to fight the dark period with courage, confidence and values learnt from literature. In her discussion she emphasized the change of human values and the effect in subconscious mind which has been reflected in literature.
