Brief description of the event: As part of the curriculum, the talk was held on “Gender, Work and Institutional Structures: Experiences of Women in Research” and it was delivered by Dr. Ananya Jana who is a Postdoctoral Fellow at McGill University, Canada. She spoke about her experiences working as a researcher abroad. She also shared the cultural differences at the workplace, the challenges she faced as a newcomer and how the change in climate impacted her life. Her interaction with the students focused on dedication, perseverance, shaping goals, facing challenges, and developing the attitude of never giving up!

Being a microbiology student, she mentioned the importance of coordination between mind and action as it helps to achieve the goals. In the end she mentioned how the social, cultural, and financial factors influence our goals.

Programme Outcome: This event shed light on the values of gender equality in our society. Creating awareness on gender equality is one of the supreme pillars of good governance in our society. This event made us realize the important role of gender in our society. The students were able to understand the various social factors of our society, which will help them to shape their goals. They also became aware about other social issues such as financial, family and other factors. The students had many enquiries on the opportunities in this field of higher study and research which were properly addressed. The students expressed great satisfaction, and the session was highly interactive.
