Brief description of the event – In wake of the INTERNATIONAL MOTHER LANGUAGE DAY, Sm Isha Dev Pal and Vivek Karmakar spoke about the intricacies of Bengali and Sanskrit Languages. The invited speakers DR. Isha Dev Pal, & Dr. Vivek Karmakar delivered insightful lectures on Bengali and Sanskrit language respectively. All the students of the college attended the program. The teachers and students also shared their valuable views on the topic.

Programme Outcome: This lecture was arranged to help the students to have a more clearer vision about their mother-tongue Bengali and mother-language Sanskrit. From Dr. Isha Deb Pal's lecture the students could understand the significance of regional languages and the necessity to restore the lingual diversity of our country as all the languages whether mainstream or regional are the mother- tongue of the respective native. The International mother-tongue day should include and honour all the regional and marginal languages in spite of degrading them. From Dr. Vivek Karmakar's lecture the students studied the intricacies of Sanskrit and Bengali grammar. This lecture was indeed helpful to rectify the common spelling and pronunciation mistakes for the students. This event enriched the students about the importance of one's Mother Language.
