Brief Description of the Event- The talk provided an overview of the essential aspects of English Language Teaching (ELT) for the first semester students of English major. The speaker focused on the core concepts of ELT and her discussion aimed to equip students with the theoretical as well as practical set of skills necessary for effective language instruction. The talk introduced to the students the key aspects of English Language Teaching. The two-hour discussion covered a wide range of topics, including effective teaching methodologies, lesson planning, classroom management and the use of technology in the classroom.

Outcome- The purpose of arranging this seminar talk was to introduce students to the rudimentary features of English Language Teaching. Since ELT is part of their syllabus, the students largely benefitted from the overall discussion. Students additionally received firsthand knowledge of applying the theoretical knowledge of the ELT course, its various challenges, and the means to overcome them.
