

Name of the Event: Peer Teaching

Organizing Unit: Department of Philosophy

Date: 13th December 2024

Name of the resource person: Dolly Thakur, PG 1st Year Student

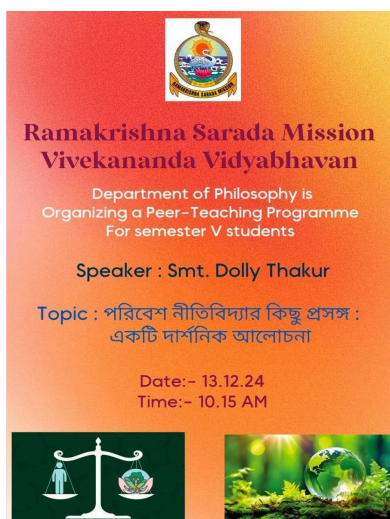

Topic: “Paribesh Nitividyar Kichu Prasanga: Ekti Darsanik Alochona”

No. of Participants: 12

Brief Description of the event: On 13th December 2024, a Peer Teaching session was held, where Dolly Thakur delivered a lecture on the topic "Paribesh Nitividyar Kichu Prasanga: Ekti Darsanik Alochona," which translates to "Some Issues of Environmental Ethics: A Philosophical Discussion." The session aimed to explore environmental ethics through a philosophical lens, discussing various aspects of environmental issues and the ethical implications of human actions on the environment. Dolly Thakur introduced key philosophical ideas regarding environmental ethics and analyzed the moral responsibility humans have in the context of environmental conservation. The lecture engaged participants in discussing the intersection of philosophy and environmental concerns, promoting critical thinking about how philosophical frameworks can address current ecological challenges.

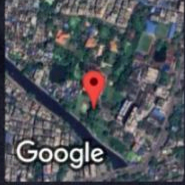

Programme Outcome: The discussion promoted awareness among participants about pressing environmental issues and the ethical dilemmas surrounding them, encouraging them to consider their role in addressing these challenges. The Peer Teaching session conducted by Dolly Thakur was an enriching experience for all participants, providing valuable insights into environmental ethics and fostering an environment of open, philosophical discussion. The event encouraged students to reflect on the ethical dimensions of environmental issues, and the interactive nature of the session enhanced learning outcomes

Flyer:

GPS Map Camera

South Dumdum, West Bengal, India
52/c, Amarpalli, South Dumdum, West Bengal 700074, India
Lat 22.613317° Long 88.409128°
13/12/24 10:29 AM GMT +05:30