

Name of the Event: Parampara Class

Date: 29th November 2024

Topic: Philosophical Analysis: Hoppers

Name of resource person: Smt. Pallabi Mondal

No. of Participants: 13, Semester 5 Students

Brief Description of the event: On 29th November 2024, Smt. Pallabi Mondal took another Parampara class, this time focusing on Hoppers's Theory of Meaning. The session included a detailed reading and explanation of the text, where Smt. Mondal meticulously unpacked the philosophical aspects of Hoppers's ideas on meaning. She elaborated on the philosophical underpinnings of the theory, providing practical examples to help students better understand its core tenets.

Program Outcome: The class was instrumental in aiding the students' comprehension of Hoppers's Theory of Meaning. The thorough explanations allowed the students to clear many of their doubts. The interaction between the teacher and students fostered an environment where they felt encouraged to engage and discuss their questions, contributing to a deeper understanding of the subject matter.
