Brief Description of the event: The Youth Convention, titled Yuva Sammelan, was organized with the primary goal of nurturing the values of Shraddha (self-respect and truthfulness) among young students. This event brought together renowned speakers who shared insights and experiences to inspire students to lead meaningful lives rooted in integrity and self-belief. The resource persons emphasized the importance of self-awareness, resilience, and ethical conduct in today's fast-paced world. The program included motivational speeches, interactive discussions, and a dedicated Students' Activity Session, where participants explored how these values can be practised in everyday life. The convention sought to empower young minds by fostering a sense of purpose and encouraging them to contribute positively to society.

Programme Outcome: The Youth Convention proved to be an overwhelming success, evident in the enthusiastic participation of both students and teachers. The Students' Activity Session stood out as a highlight, with vibrant discussions and creative inputs from the participants. Students shared their thoughts on the relevance of Shraddha in personal growth and social responsibility. Teachers and resource persons praised the depth of engagement and the unique perspectives presented by the students. The event concluded on a high note, with attendees expressing a renewed sense of purpose and commitment to upholding these values in their lives.
