Time: 12:30 pm - 4:30 pm

No of students: 5

Brief description of the event: As a part of the curriculum, a one-day field visit was organized by the Department of Sociology and NSS. This visit aimed to explore the socio-economic, health-hygiene and educational aspects of two marginalised sections i.e. children of both slum areas and sex workers. It was to help the young minds to stimulate their way of thinking. Our first destination was Chaitanya Library; Students took some pictures inside the library. Then we moved on to our field Ananda Mandir (Local Club); it was located at Ram Bagan, Loha Pati Road, where we tried to capture the socio-economic, hygiene and educational conditions of slum and red-light area kids. Students communicated with them, questioning their lifestyle and collected the data from them as much as possible. At the end of the data collection, we took a break and enjoyed our delicious north Kolkata sweets, which were arranged by the local club (Ananda Mandir). After that, we reached our ultimate destination Niranjan Agar for food, where students strolled around and clicked some panoramic shots of north Kolkata. It was an excellent, informative, eventful day for all of us.

Outcomes: This visit was meant to get a chance to come in touch with the socio-economic, health-hygiene and educational conditions of both the children of slum and red-light areas. Through this survey, students could understand the scenario of the city slum and red-light area. It will help the students to build an overall critical understanding about how the Govt. should intervene in formulating policies and arrange welfare programs beneficial to those of the kids. Students took full advantage of getting themselves exposed to new ideas and the social pattern of support systems and community networks. Overall, it was an enriching experience for all .

Brief description of the event: The NSS Unit of RKSMVV in collaboration with Dakshin 24 Paragana Pratibandhi Kalyan Sanstha took an outreach initiative at Sri Ramakrishna Palli, Sonarpur through distribution of 50 blankets on 25 December 2024. Chocolates , biscuits and cakes were distributed among physically disabled children. The initiative not only addressed an immediate need but also showcased the power of community involvement, compassion, and service.

Programme Outcome: The blankets were distributed to 50 children with physical disabilities across multiple schools, hospitals, and care centers. These children often face additional challenges, particularly during colder months, making this donation especially meaningful. The recipients, as well as their families, expressed immense gratitude for the warmth and comfort provided by the blankets. In many cases, the children, who often have limited mobility, found it difficult to stay warm during the winter months. The donated blankets provided not just warmth, but a sense of dignity and care, enhancing their quality of life. Beyond the physical comfort provided, the initiative fostered a deep sense of empathy and connection among the volunteers and donors. The drive also helped raise awareness about the challenges faced by physically disabled children, sparking further support for similar initiatives. Following the success of this donation drive, the NSS plans to make it an annual event, with the goal of expanding the outreach and ensuring that more children are provided with essential comfort every winter season.
