HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan is a partly residential degree college for women and the first educational institution established by the Ramakrishna Sarada Mission. The inaugural meeting to establish the college was held under the esteemed patronage of Revered Swami Madhavananda Maharaj, General Secretary of the Ramakrishna Math and Mission, and Revered Pravrajika Vedaprana Mataji. The college was officially founded in 1961 and was initially affiliated with the University of Calcutta. However, as part of a state initiative, its university affiliation was later changed to West Bengal State University.

A thirty bigha plot of land donated by the late Shree Debendranath Bhattacharya provided ample space for the construction of the college. Initially housed in a single-room makeshift structure with just thirty-one students and a small group of dedicated teachers and monastic members, the college has made significant progress over the years under the guidance of Revered Pravrajika Vedaprana Mataji, Revered Pravrajika Amalaprana Mataji, and Revered Pravrajika Bhaswaraprana Mataji. The current principal, Pravrajika Vedarupapranaji, is dynamic and motivated, consistently focused on innovating and modernising the college while remaining true to the educational principles of Swami Vivekananda.

The inaugural meeting to set up the college on the donated land of thirty bighas by D.N Bhattacharya at 33, Nayapatty Road, South Dum Dum took place on the 10th

Silver jubilee Programme 1986

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The education offered at the college goes beyond the academic syllabus, incorporating a harmonious blend of academics, extracurricular activities, co-curricular training, and spiritual insights drawn from the teachings of Swami Vivekananda. The ultimate goal is to prepare them to become confident, compassionate, and responsible citizens. As Swami Vivekananda stated, “The uplift of women must come first; only then can any real good come about for the country, for India.”

INDIAN KNOWLEDGE SYSTEM (IKS)

In keeping with the UGC directives (No.F.14-1/2022[JCRC]) on the importance of understanding and preserving Indian heritage and disseminating Indian Systems of Knowledge in a way that it reaches every level of society and the provisions of the New Education Policy (NEP), the College has taken necessary initiatives to ensure that students get an early and holistic exposure to its rich benefits. The College hopes to encourage students and introduce them to the basics of the IKS by providing two courses on:

(i) Value Education:

Following the NEP and the teaching so the visionary Swami Vivekananda, Sri Ramakrishna Dev and Sri Sarada Devi, the College strives to provide a comprehensive exposure to value based education to students. The value education course in Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan has been divided into three basic modules that cover the lives, work and visions of its three guiding beacons and runs the course of the entire three-year undergraduate programme.

(ii) Traditional Texts: Shrimad Bhagavad Gita:

The College offers a Specially curated certificate course on the Shrimad Bhagavat Gita for its current undergraduate and post-graduate students. The College strongly believes that students, in contemporary times, need to be initiated to the very rich offerings of the traditional Indian knowledge system which the Shrimad Bhagavat Gita intrinsically represents. This course is offered in collaboration with the Academy of Research for Cultivation of Indian Sciences (ARCIS) under the aegis of the Kavi Kulguru Kalidas Sanskrit University.

COURSES OFFERED: CBCS AND NEP

The Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) was introduced by West Bengal State University (WBSU) in the year 2018. As the University Grants Commission (UGC) moved away from the conventional marks-based percentage system, it aimed to introduce a credit system which could match the international educational pattern to be found in the USA, UK, Japan among others. The UGC argued that the percentage-based evaluation system restricted the students from studying the courses/subjects of their choice and considerably limited their mobility between institutions. In order to bridge that gap, the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) was put forward, which allows a student to study according to his/her interests. Students can choose from inter-disciplinary, intra-disciplinary, and skill-based courses. They also have the provision to opt for additional courses and can score more than the required number of credits. This also makes for easier inter-college/university migration within the country and as well as inter nationally.

RKSMVV has implemented the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 in alignment with the directives of the University Grants Commission (UGC) and the West Bengal State University (WBSU), from the academic year 2023-2024. This undergraduate framework is aimed at enhancing the quality and flexibility of higher education, enabling students to tailor their academic journeys according to their interests and aspirations. The NEP undergraduate programme is structured around a four-year curriculum that offers a broader choice of subjects, allowing students to select core courses and electives that resonate with their personal and professional goals. This personalized approach potentially fosters a more engaging and relevant educational experience. Some of the key features of the NEP undergraduate programme include Flexible Curriculum, Skill Development, Multiple Entry and Exit Points and a Semester-Based Examination System. These are aimed at creating a dynamic and student-centric educational environment that promotes lifelong learning and adaptability in an ever-changing world.
