Brief Description of the Event: RKSMVV in collaboration with Aparajito-Nandini Chatterjee Memorial Charitable Trust, conducted a Cervical cancer Vaccination camp and gave the first dose of anti-cervical cancer vaccine. Dr. Chandreyee Bhattacharya, the Managing Trustee of Aparajito took this initiative to prevent the spread of cervical cancer among girls. Dr. Bhattacharya helped students get vaccinated on 26th April. Since the vaccination programme was open to all, the relatives of students and wives of our non-teaching staff also participated in the programme and got vaccinated. The NSS student volunteers organize the vaccination camp.

Project Aparajito under the Nandini Chatterjee Memorial Charitable Trust also extended financial help to the students and bore a significant percentage of the cost of the vaccine. Representatives from Serum Institute also participated in the vaccination programme. The other two rounds of vaccination will be arranged by the college in collaboration with Aparajito to complete the vaccination process.

Programme Outcome:

It was one of the significant out-reach programmes under-taken by the college. Around 50 students received the HPV vaccine and ensured prevention of cervical cancer in the future. The College in collaboration with Aparajito also successfully vaccinated 5-6 girls and women outside of RKSMVV.
