Brief Description of the Event: All three batches of the Department went to the 48th International Kolkata Book Fair with a faculty, Dr. Sunetra Mitra, Assistant Professor, Department of History. They visited the theme pavilion of Germany. There were more than thousand stalls. Obviously, the students stepped into the stalls of their interest which included sports, travel especially, Bhraman Patrika, Sri Sarada Math, Ananda Publishers, Paschim Banga Itihas Samsad, Dev Sahitya Kutir, Penguin Random House India among many.

Outcome of the Event: It was an excellent way of experiential learning as the students could have a glimpse of the wide span of philosophy, fictional literature, diverse history of different countries, micro studies, travelogues, language studies and so on. Some stalls on computer application also drew their attention. This widened their horizon and roused their interest in many fields. This was a learning mechanism through discussions. The visit also brightened their day with laughter, stall food.
