Description of the event: The Department of Sociology bid a warm and heartfelt farewell to the outgoing Semester 6 students on 30th May 2025. The event was marked by a joyful and emotional gathering where students and faculty came together to celebrate memories and milestones.

The farewell began with a cake-cutting ceremony, symbolising a sweet end to a significant academic journey. Thoughtful gifts were exchanged among students and juniors, adding a personal touch to the occasion. The event featured lively performances by students, which included songs, dances, and heartfelt speeches that reflected on their time together. A special video presentation captured cherished memories from the past three years, bringing smiles, laughter, and a few tears.

Program Outcome: It was a memorable and well-organised event that strengthened the bond among students and left the outgoing batch with a sense of gratitude and joy. The gathering served as a beautiful conclusion to their undergraduate journey in Sociology.
