

Ramakrishna Sarada Mission Vivekananda Vidyabhavan

Department of Philosophy
Event Report

Event: Micro-teaching

Topic: Indian Philosophy

Date: 14.8.2025

Venue: Room No. 8

Resource Person: 2nd Semester Students

No. of Participants: 21

Brief Description:

The second-semester students of the Department of Philosophy jointly presented a paper on Indian Philosophy. Each of the students explained in detail the different schools of Indian Philosophy and their specific characteristics. The most interesting part of their presentation was that they used a PowerPoint presentation in conjunction with their verbal discussion.

Program outcome:

The presentation made jointly by the students of the 5th semester helped them experience the process of presenting a paper, facing questions, and learning the benefits of group discussion. The previous semester, students were encouraged by the Micro-teaching program and actively participated in the session.
